

Four Keys to Winning in Marriage and Money

1. Work As a Team

- Understand and communicate who will take what role in the marriage.
- One will most likely be stronger with money, but both need to be a part of the decision-making process.

2. It's Not About Fairness

- When it comes to marriage, you have to throw any expectations for fairness or equality out the window: The goal is not fairness, but SERVICE.
- Jesus' love for us was never fair and He didn't demand fairness, instead He laid down his life for us as a FREE Gift and encouraged us to live the same way.

3. It's Not About You, and It's Not About the Money

- Sometimes you will have to tell yourself no, and sometimes you will have to tell your spouse yes.

4. Forgive, Forgive, Forgive

- There will be countless disagreements in your relationships and how you handle those will determine the staying power of those relationships.
